

Financial Pathways of the Piedmont

Financial Health First Responder Award Nomination

YEAR 2021-2022

Financial Pathways of the Piedmont

is the community's financial health first responder. Our entire mission and history focuses on helping residents improve their financial well-being by providing professional, personal, and comprehensive financial counseling, housing counseling, and financial education to all members of the community.

The current global pandemic and financial challenges have brought to light those unsung heroes in our community that make life a bit easier for those with barriers or challenges. Our organization and board of directors wants to recognize individuals from the community who:

- exemplify the mission of Financial Pathways of the Piedmont
- embody the values of being a financial health first responder within their organization, company, or financial institution
- have gone above and beyond to help individuals improve their financial health and overall wellbeing

Throughout the year, applications will be accepted, ten finalists will be selected, and one notable nominee will be named the Financial Pathways of the Piedmont Financial Health First Responder of the Year. All these finalists and the winner will be recognized at our annual luncheon on April 28, 2022 with a tangible award and special program.
